

Leogreen Painting & Decorating is a Brisbane-based painting company that specialises in high end residential painting, and that aims to achieve an exceptional product every time. They recognise that few places in life are as important for creating memories as the family home. When it comes to painting that home, they want to be the “trusted choice to take care of the place that takes care of you.”

“Our quality workmanship and attention to detail has allowed our company to grow without compromising our client’s needs,” says Director Jeremy Leogreen. “The beautiful homes that we are proud to have contributed to are the backbone of our company.”

Jeremy has worked in the painting industry for over 18 years and has gained a wealth of experience worldwide. His career has spanned from New Zealand to England to Canada, and now he’s making his presence known here in Australia.

In the years since commencing, Leogreen Painting has worked with some of Brisbane’s most prominent architects such as Tim Stewart Architects, Refresh Design, Arkhefield and Marc&Co and has formed valuable relationships with building companies Bespoke Constructions and PTF Constructions.

Leogreen Painting’s success is a credit to their quality – which is proven time and time again by their client testimonials and word of mouth referrals.

“Jeremy and the team at Leogreen Painting go above and beyond in all that they do,” testifies a client in a Google Review.

“The Leogreen team are reliable, professional and competitively priced. They are also very helpful with advice and ideas,” testifies another.

Leogreen Painting is the “best painting contractor in Brisbane,” according to a recommendation on Facebook. “Their quality of work was first class and they are pleasure to deal with.”

All reviews agree that Leogreen Painting is communicative, accommodating, and easy to work with. They all attest to their high standard of quality. And almost all express that they would be happy to work with the company again, if they haven’t already.

To date, the majority of those clients – roughly 60 per cent – have been private clients, with the rest builders. Private clients are who they are focusing on moving forward.

For each and every one of those clients, Leogreen Painting can provide a tailored solution. The company does everything from decks to designer homes to small-scale developments, cottages to custom builds, wallpapers to wood stains. No matter the size of the project, they have abide by a best practice policy, ensuring each job is completed leaving a clean and safe environment.

Then, long after the paint has dried, the company’s service doesn’t end. Leogreen Painting ensures they remain available to offer advice, answer questions, and assist with future projects.

In addition to building lasting relationships with customers, Leogreen Painting also forms relationships in their community, primarily by employing apprentices. They consider them an integral part of their workforce, and they are proud to do their part to contribute to the future of the trade in Queensland.

The company is also a member of Master Painters Australia – and thus adheres to the highest standards of craftsmanship and professionalism. That membership – combined with their Dulux accreditation – gives all stakeholders confidence in the company’s quality, experience, and integrity.
